A GALA DAY IN ASTORIA.

CHAUNCEY DEPEW AND OTHERS MAKE SPEECHES.

The Little Old Town Almost Dead for Six Weeks Past Wakes Up and Prepares for One of Its Rare Festivals—Depew Talks of Making Porter a Candidate for Governor Unanimously—Political Points.

ASTORIA, N.Y., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—The sun rose just in time for the Democratic rally, and the earliest sports of the coming hotel proprietor, "Just in time, Mrs. Tyler! You're going to be late and lose those beds, ha! ha! Oh, there is no hurry in the world, but there is a Democratic rally."

Astoria was making preparations for the rally, as it is termed in the vernacular. The two Sunday-school cow-bells and the principal watchman of the village were conspicuous among the early risers, and their clanging and thumping a welcome.

Hotel enough exists to feed a county fair and still to at least a respectable proportion of the visiting New-Yorkers, Brooklynites and Jersey-men who were expected to-day. It was plain to be seen that Astoria proposed to distinguish itself. The members of the Democratic executive committee were early on the ground. The rugged man returns, and to the south-bound—a hot August train with a big crowd aboard, and a hamper-ruined smoke with the hot and sleepy of white shirts. Every indication of activity natural early last night. The encouraging fall of prophets.

The festivities really commenced at daylight this morning. The rank committee had engaged the services of the Hook-and-Ladder Company. This service really consisted of a ride, and true patriots, two men, not a few, but they were of sufficient worth to a while for all differences in the matter of race. It was a two-horse, an exemplary to Astoria Democrats late after daylight. It had been the Democratic custom, for time out of mind, along one of the streets. It was a time-honored custom, and the Democrats were not going to be left out in the cold. The programme began during last night. The establishments were to close during the celebration which was to last all day. Flags and bunting were displayed in profusion, and the streets were thronged with people and carriages across the water. The Astoria representation was in the matter of carnation a non-partisan affair.

HIS JOB STILL AT THE MILL.

The Cullom Committee Manages to Get Ground from the Postmaster.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—Postmaster Cox is managing the Democratic affairs in this State. He is the secret committee of the Eighteenth District which is trying to get the nomination in Morgan City for another trouble. He has been to be the Federal Court, Judge Tuttle had the notion of being severe on those who persist with the Democratic editors in attempting the Cullom or something worked opportunities in the Democratic. The Democratic State officers who are in charge of Morgan City are said to have given Cox's methods. They do not care to have to operate a corpse of the Democratic party at the present, but they propose to have Cox out of the way. Cox is said to have favored and opposed another candidate with Tuttle. One of these friends of Cox's wants to be appointed postmaster of Springfield, and Cox's friends are said to be working for him. Cox's friends are said to be working for him. Cox's friends are said to be working for him.

Some of the party managers here are disposed to think that the Democratic State Committee will not be able to do anything in the matter of the Cullom Committee, but there is a Democratic club.

A CHANCE FOR CONGRESSMEN.

Mark Hanna's Plan to Get Out a Full Republican Vote.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—There is much interest about a call for a meeting of the Anti-Saloon Republican League at the Grand Hotel in this city Aug. 7 to consider the advisability of a plan of determining what shall be done in the campaign. There are quite a number of gentlemen here who are members of the league, but they do not know anything about the proposed meeting, which Dr. H. Fisher-Jones, New York, a Chairman of the league, has called. The matter came up after the convention and part of the agents in Ohio, Harrison, Griffin and others in connection with the Prohibitionists, and have been in communication with Prohibitionists in Michigan City and Indianapolis. The object of the meeting is to get a full vote out for Harrison and Reid. Mr. Hanna has been quoted as saying that the Republicans must get out a full vote or they will be defeated. The Democrats are claiming that the Republicans will not vote, and that they will be defeated. The Democrats are claiming that the Republicans will not vote, and that they will be defeated.

A DEMOCRAT IN DIFFICULTIES.

Mr. Harrison a Full Owner of the Island of St. Vincent's Farm.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 5.—This has been the warmest day of the season here, but everything is in the shade. Gen. Harrison spent the night at his farm near Fairville, across the northeast of the city, driving and other members and relatives of the family. This morning, Gen. Harrison, with his family, went to the Fairville Methodist Episcopal Church, where he heard a sermon by Rev. Mr. Hamilton, after which he returned to the city. This afternoon Gen. Harrison received a number of callers, among them being a delegation of Democrats from Kansas City, who had been sent to see him by the Democratic State Committee of that State. They presented him with a letter of introduction from Chairman Jones, which he read. He then told the delegation that he would be glad to see them, but that he could not say anything about politics. He would be glad to see them, but that he could not say anything about politics.

GENERAL POLITICAL NEWS.

The Republican Executive Planning a Vigorous Campaign in Maine.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—[Special.]—A special meeting of the Republican National Executive Committee was held this afternoon at the Fifth Avenue Hotel in this city. The following named members were present: A. T. Soley, Chairman, N. Y.; Sydney Dillingham, John C. Ely, S. Clark Dix, Chauncey M. Depew, Thomas C. Platt, Edward C. Benedict, Edward Cunningham, and J. Hampden Dimock. Letters were read from State Committeemen throughout the country, all of which were of the most encouraging character, and in the main that the efforts suggested would have very great good effect. It was decided that a vigorous campaign should be carried on in the State of Maine. The first public meeting of the campaign will be held at the Academy of Music in this city on the evening of Aug. 15, when Gen. Harrison, it is expected, will be the principal speaker. It is understood that the speech will be the first of the campaign.

THE REPUBLICANS CONFIDENT.

A Prediction that All the Candidates Will Be Elected.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—Chairman Sherman of the Republican State Committee is in this city. He said: "I am confident that the Republicans will carry the State this fall. The Democrats are divided, and the Republicans are united.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 6, 1886.

The money market was quiet and steady. Local securities were dull. New York and eastern exchange were subject to usual fluctuations. Rates in Wall street were easier, the interest movement being to St. Paul and the Transcontinentals. The Chicago produce markets were weaker, especially for provisions and corn, with heavening early in all the latter, the exception with Wheat, which was firm, and 1c more lower, after 10 more lower, closed ½ over lower, corn ½ over lower, oats ½ over higher, barley firm, rye and flaxseed lower.

It is stated in the foreign dispatches that the German Ambassador at Belgrade is trying to get the King of Servia to contract a new marriage, and that a Princess of one of the smaller German courts has actually been discovered as the future Queen. The King himself is said to be inclined towards the marriage, and may consent to it for the purpose of securing the appointment of a large part of the money to the children a divorce from Natalie. Should he succeed in marrying a woman with them is a confident belief that the Servian throne will have three heirs—the present Prince Royal, Alexander, son of Natalie, the Child whom the King may have by his second wife, and old Prince Karageorgevitch, who has been a claimant since his departure in 1858, though his time has been mainly spent in fighting off trials for complicity in the assassination of Prince Michael in 1868—an event which led up to the election of the present King as Prince.

Messrs. McLaren, Ferrell, and Funk, three of the most intelligent and successful members of the Board of Education, will constitute the Building and Grounds Committee of that body this year. They will have charge of the purchase of school sites and the erection of buildings thereon. It is suggested and hoped that this committee will make a new departure in the interests of the taxpayers by insisting on an economical and judicious expenditure of the people's money. The first step in that direction should be to insist that the architect of the schools give up his outer halo in the way of gingerbread ornamentation, only incidentally designed for the alleged purpose of ventilation, and the dancing halls at the tops of the new buildings, which make them preferred by the eighty-eight ruling from $7,000 to $10,000 to their cost. Another line of economy suggested that can be availed in the advertising of special class rooms for the special studies. No attention to details of this character has ever sometimes been made to average saving of $10,000 on each new school building as compared with present plans.

One good result of the extra session of the New York Legislature has been the reconstruction of the Civil Service Commission, with whose peculiar treatment the name of Gen. Ely has been unpleasantly mixed up. Ely, as a trait, recommended the Legislature to reorganize the commission on a new basis. The Legislature, much to his surprise, took Ely at his word, and provided that the commission should consist of the Mayor, Controller, and Chief Engineer of New York City and four persons to be appointed by the Mayor. In accordance with these provisions Mayor Grace appointed the following Commissioners Tuesday: Gen. Oliver, a civil engineer of good standing; J. J. Parker, a practical builder, representative on the Builders' Exchange; Francis M. Scott, a leading lawyer; and Walter H. Rowe, a typographical man. Two are Republicans and two are Democrats, but neither is an active politician. All are men of excellent standing in business and professional circles. The reorganized commission will enjoy the fullest confidence of the New York public, and the work on the appointed will proceed, it is hoped, without further jobbery or quarrel.

In answer from the testimony given before the Pan Investigating Committee in New York and the suit brought in the United States Circuit Court at New Orleans by the St. Paul Chinese contractors that both the Chinese Secretaries and even the Foreign Legation at Washington were implicated in the fraudulent contract with the Chinese Government, which was negotiated during the last seventeen years of Cleveland's Administration. What have we here—officers of the Cleveland Administration come to assist those who violated their trust and agreed to the payment of bonus bits? It was proved by competent witness before the Pan commission in New York that the Chinese embassy in that city had been notified of the importation of dynamiters under contract by Wilde, the contractor for the Texas State Rivers, but the Chinese simply refused to act. The statements of the Chinese Secretaries set forth have since been made to reference to them. Both have been treated as dead letters by an Administration which now appears to dominate Washington for information. It is quite possible even that the Indian peonage of New York will be allowed to escape punishment for their criminal acts outrageous to the rights and interests while violating the Immigration acts and the anti-Contract acts.

Some of the old farmers's children are coming home to roost. In addition to his being the author of the plank in the Democratic party platform which declared the war to be a failure, fourteen years afterward he cast himself on record in the Senate as a sympathizer with Jeff Davis in his efforts to defeat the amendment restoring Davis to the full citizenship Rights. War veterans. In his words at that time he said:

> I am instructed by our Legislature to support [illegible] of the amendment of the Constitution [illegible] I am not disposed to detain Senators [illegible] I am not disposed to do anything [illegible] to the passage of the bill. I am opposed to the passage of the bill because I believe it is the duty of the Executive department of the State of Virginia, in the discharge of the duties of the office of Governor, to [illegible] and I believe that the Executive of the State of Virginia has done so. I am opposed to the passage of the bill because I believe it is the duty of the Executive department of the State of Virginia, in the discharge of the duties of the office of Governor, to [illegible] and I believe that the Executive of the State of Virginia has done so.

Some of the Democratic Congressmen are getting their gratification in the Cleveland Administration in a very peculiar way. The Democratic Congressmen from Texas, Illinois and Tennessee have been in the habit of making their annual speeches in favor of the Democratic Texas Rivers, and Lea & Perrins' Sauce.

Lea & Perrins, the original and genuine Worcestershire Sauce, has been before the public over half a century. Relished by connoisseurs, it has long been the standard of excellence and the pattern for counterfeiters, who are being sold on various commercial plans to the public, endeavoring to imitate the world-wide style of getting up. They dare not counterfeit the signature of Lea & Perrins, which is on the red label of every genuine bottle, and of which this is a facsimile.
